

59. Doing the Impossible

Living a good life
is a challenge to everyone.

The way of the seeker
is unmarked and unfolding.
She resists the temptations of diversions and cliches.
Because her life is a journey
with the destination foretold,
all things are possible
as part of her path.

Doing the impossible
is all that there is.
Knowing the Tao,
seeking the impossible,
She is able to care for others and nourish their souls.
